

HYDERABAD: Hyderabad is the capital of Andhra Pradesh and the fifth largest city of India. Andhra Pradesh has 4 Government and 2 Homoeopathic Medical Colleges and around 600 homoeopathic government dispensaries catering to the needs of the people. The history of homoeopathy in Andhra Pradesh is times immemorial. Many stalwarts have contributed for the growth of homoeopathy in this state.

Places to visit: Ramoji Film City is the ultimate leisure destination for holidays, honeymooners, corporate conferences, events, theme parties, adventure camps, family picnics and grand weddings. The largest film studio complex in the world as certified by Guinness World Records, provides comprehensive and advanced film production facilities with dedicated professionalism. A filmmaker can walk in with a script and walk out with a canned film. www.ramojifilmcity.com

Birla Mandir: The temple, built on a hillock called Kala Pahad, one of the Naubat Pahad twins, lords over its equally celebrated surroundings comprising the imposing Secretariat buildings, the azure-blue waters of Hussain Sagar, the serene and halcyon Lumbini Park, the luxurious Public Gardens dominated by the Asafjahi-style Legislative Assembly complex and the Reserve Bank of India. From the highest level of the temple, the spectacle around is breath-taking.

Charminar: Charminar is always on the top of the mind of any tourist visiting Hyderabad. To say that Charminar is a major landmark in the city is to state the obvious, to repeat a cliché. Built by Mohammed Quli Qutub Shah in 1591, shortly after he had shifted his capital from Golkonda to what now is known as Hyderabad, this beautiful colossus in granite, lime, mortar and, some say, pulverised marble, was at one time the heart of the city.

Chow Mohalla Complex: Built in several phases by the Nizams between 1857-1869, this is now one of the heritage buildings. The complex comprises four palaces in Moghal and European styles, of which the main palace is double storeyed with the others being single-storeyed blocks. Located near Charminar - Himmatpura.

Golconda Fort: Golconda is one of the famous forts of India. The name originates from the Telugu words "Golla Konda" meaning "Shepherd's Hill". The origins of the fort can be traced back to the Yadava dynasty of Deogiri and the Kakatiyas of Warangal. Golconda was originally a mud fort, which passed to the Bahmani dynasty and later to the Qutb Shahis, who held it from 1518 to 1687 A.D. The first three Qutb Shahi kings rebuilt Golconda, over a span of 62 years.

Qutub Shahi Tombs: These stately domes form an umbrella over the tombs underneath which rest the majestic kings of the Qutub Shahi dynasty in peace. The tombs, which have been silent spectators to the many developments in Hyderabad over four centuries, are open to visitors on all days except Fridays.

Hi Tech City: One of the modern monuments of trade and technology, it embodies the newfound attitude of Hyderabad and today finds a place of pride. Situated on the outskirts of the city, it is the nucleus of Cyberabad, the IT destination in this part of the world. Cyber Towers is the main building here.

Teacher's Day:

September 5th is an important day in the life of every teacher. Teacher's Day is intended to be special day for the appreciation of teachers as a mark of respect to Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishna. Teachers mould the lives that they influence because the lessons learned from teachers remain with their students throughout life. We should always respect our teachers. Teachers need encouragement and support from the community to feel that their devotion to students is appreciated.

Dr. Farokh J. Master's birth into homeopathy was in the year June 1976, when he joined Bombay homeopathic medical college, after giving up his studies at the orthodox school of medicine. He has given seminars in various countries. Due to his outstanding medical career, at present Dr. Farokh Master is the only Homoeopathic physician M.D. (Hom.) consulting at Asia's largest allopathic Hospital (viz. Mumbai Hospital, Institute of Medical Sciences, which is also attached to Mumbai University). Dr. Master has written more than 50 books like, The Homeopathic Dream Dictionary, Cross References of the Mind, Perceiving Rubrics of the Mind, The State of Mind affecting the Foetus, Tumors and Homeopathy, The Bedside Organon of Medicine, The proving of Moccasin Snake, Bungarus, etc.

Dr. G. Janardhan Reddy: Member, Governing Council, Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy, Department of Ayush, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Govt. of India, Former Additional Director (Homoeo) Dept. of Ayush, Govt. of Andhra Pradesh and Former PG Professor and Principal, J.S.P.S. Govt. Homoeopathic Medical College, Hyderabad. A versatile teacher of Materia Medica, delivered several lectures at national and international seminars. His unique way of presentation of drug pictures in the contemporary world is fascinating.
