"Mind is the key to man" - Dr. Samuel Hahnemann

A work based on S Y N T H E S I S

This work is meant for the serious students of Homoeopathy and for those who sincerely want to understand and interpret the rubrics. It does not promise solutions but it represents an honest search. Special Thanks To Prof. K. B. RAMESH For his valuable comments and suggestions.

Explanations and Examples Given By Eminent Authors and My Beloved Teachers are Also Included.

Most of the Homoeopaths consider the symptoms of the human mind to be the most important one while treating any case. The mind covers the emotional as well as the intellectual and communicational characteristics. To be acceptable the mind symptoms must be peculiar and characteristics of the patient.

Mental symptoms play a very important role in unfolding the true image of the sickness, but in practical experience it is very difficult to obtain from the sick person and also very difficult to understand or interpret them correctly. Repertory which is an index of symptoms can be utilized in a better manner only when the user is aware of how to convert the conditions into symptoms, and the symptoms into rubrics.

Many of the practitioners and students find it very difficult to interpret these symptoms and conditions to refer in the repertory and to arrive at the similimum. And this is an effort to help the practitioners especially the new comers in using the repertory. Many of the rubric are ambiguous and implicit and need a continuous study for using these rubrics in bedside.

Majority of the rubrics found in the mind as well as in the generalities are neglected by the common practitioners for want of correct understanding and interpretation of the rubrics. Hence the meaning as well as the denotations of the important rubrics of the Synthesis repertory are explained here under. The mental rubrics are difficult to understand by dictionary meanings alone. We should understand the correct means assigned to a particular rubric. Homoeopathic physician even if given mental symptoms by the patient, unable to perceive the case because of his lack of knowledge in this field. He ignores such symptoms unintentionally and the case may be a failure.

One of the main problems we encounter in practice is the conversion of the patients' symptoms in the proper language of the repertory. In order to overcome this problem we shall be able to understand exactly the meaning of each rubric, sub rubrics with cross references and remedies. The work has been made with the purpose of helping the students and practitioners who wish to make themselves familiar with the rubrics of the mind. Meanings as well as the explanations of the rubrics mentioned along with appropriate examples for easy comprehension.

I make no pretense that this work is either complete or final. I had made an honest attempt to compile explanations and examples given by eminent authors and my beloved teachers together. Despite all these there are limitations in the interpretations of rubrics and the void is to be filled by the experience of the practitioner with the knowledge of Materia medica.

My aim is to stimulate the students and practitioners to make their own ideas and observations. I welcome any suggestions from any quarter it may be, so that this work can be improved upon. -
